

The Robertson Scholars Express (RSX) facilitates collaboration between Duke University and UNC Chapel Hill. Though they are bitter rivals on the court, the Blue Devils and the Tar Heels can learn a lot from each other thanks to the unique educational, cultural, and social opportunities available to members of both campus communities.

While free for Robertson Scholars and GoPass holders from Duke University and UNC Chapel Hill, the one-way fare for the general public is $3. Riders without GoPasses may purchase a Regional Express Day Pass for $6 or a 31-Day Regional Express pass for $102. Both passes are good for unlimited rides on the day or dates designated. Riders who are 65 or older, youth between 6 and 18, and passengers with disabilities may qualify for discounted fares with valid identification.

The RSX departs from and arrives at the Duke Chapel bus stop. At UNC, buses depart from and arrive at the Morehead Planetarium parking lot. No stops are made between Duke and UNC, and each one-way trip is scheduled to last 30 minutes, including a two-minute turnaround at both stops.

The RSX service runs when Duke and UNC classes are in session. Reduced service is provided on designated school days, as well as days when only one school has classes in session. No service is offered during university recesses and select holidays.

The RSX will begin running for the 2016-2017 school year on August 23, 2016 using the reduced service schedule.
